

MISA BLITZ BULLETIN 4

9 SEPTEMBER 2010

STRIKE ACTION AND THE NEGOTIATIONS

The parties concluded discussions on the wage and substantive issues on Wednesday afternoon, without an agreement reached.

The sector dealing with fuel dealers is awaiting confirmation from the Minister of Energy to discuss the way forward on an increase in the retail profit margin. It will in all likely-hood take place on Friday, 10 September 2010.

MISA has a Presidential Committee meeting scheduled over the coming weekend to assess the status of the negotiations and the proposal by the employers. At that meeting a decision will be taken as to the way forward given the MISA experience during the negotiations and the likely impact a possible agreement or not will have on the MISA membership.

MISA will report back to the employers on Monday, 13 September 2010 and two days have been set aside for the discussions.

The principle issues mentioned in a previous Bulletin are still on the table with proposed solutions from MISA, with specific reference to the wage model.

The next MISA Bulletin will be circulated on Monday with an update on the situation.
